HAPPENINGS IN EAST

MR. AND MRS. J. R. WHITE BACK FROM CHICAGO-NEW YORK TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White arrived home from New York and Chicago on Monday. Mr. White, who is carpet buyer for the California Furniture company of Los Angeles, went to New York, while Mrs. White having reached Chicago remained among her many friends there.

"I was naturally pleased to get back to see Chicago after an absence of nearly twenty years," said Mrs. White. "I found many things to surprise me. The city has grown and expanded and improved in every way sice I knew it. Its extent is marvelous. Going out north I found a whole enormous city where in my time there was nothing but sand hills and prairie land. Indeed, about the time I left Chicago, Division street was pretty nearly the northern limits of the city.

"Out to Wilson avenue, to which point the elevated railroad was extended about thirteen years ago, there is a solid mass of houses, flats, apartments, hotels in every direction. More than that, beyond Wilson avenue to Evanston the same unbroken forest of houses meets the eye. There is no saying when the city will stop growing. It has grown out to the west and to the south in a similar fashion.

"In the loop district I was astonished at the multitude of skyscrapers. The new building of the gas company is very attractive. The library is one of the most beautifully decorated buildings as far as the interior is concerned in the whole of the west. It is a splendid institution. The beautiful lake front whence the hideously unsightly railway lines have been cleared was a great pleasure to behold. I also enjoyed the wonderful Art gallery and the Art institute on Michigan avenue, which has been greatly improved and enlarged.

"Chicago is busy getting ready for two conventions in June. One of these is the Republican national convention, which is to be held in the Coliseum. Another is the Woman's Suffrage convention. There is to be a great parade in connection with this convention, on June 7. It is thus intended to bring the woman's suffrage cause before the country.

"The Republican convention is naturally exciting enormous interest. It is, however, impossible to get any light on what may be done there. I met the gentleman who is to nominate ex-President Roosevelt at that convention. He was not inclined to predict anything about the result of his nomination. In similar manner the friends of other possible candidates were reticent.

"Mr. White was in New York while I was in Chicago. He found similar conditions in that city. People speak of Roosevelt and sometimes of Hughes and Root, but on the whole they are all wondering what the convention will do. In Chicago I met Mrs. Garret Fairchild, who is to be grand marshal of the June parade for suffrage. She is enthusiastic in the cause and speaks confidently of the pressure that a united woman's party could bring to bear on the political parties. I also met Mrs. Charles Kayser, a member of the executive board of the convention. She also is confident of the ultimate success of the party. The whole atmosphere is very exciting.

"In New York Mr. White found business quite active and a general tone of confidence; but there, too, people were reticent as to who might be the Republican candidate for president. Mr. White found also that there was a great dearth of the fine oriental carpets which he was anxious to purchase for his firm. Brussels carpets, too, are scarce, as might be expected. Business people he found confident that a period of better times is ahead."

CHORAL CLUB BUSY

The Glendale Choral club have not been idle since their recent concert but are having some very enthusiastic rehearsals. The club is planning for a musical evening at the Presbyterian church on the evening of June 5 and those who love good music are looking forward to this concert. The selections will be chiefly sacred numbers.

FEDERATED BROTHERHOOD

The executive committee of the Federated Brotherhood of the churches of Glendale met, Monday evening, at the home of Dr. Durfee, 508 S. Brand boulevard, for the purpose of making plans for the coming session of the brotherhood.

ASK APPROPRIATION

COMMITTEE APPEARS BEFORE TRUSTEES IN INTEREST OF PLAYGROUNDS

A committee of five, comprising Dr. E. H. Willisford, Prof. R. D. White, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mrs. Greeley Kolts, appeared before the board of trustees of the City of Glendale Monday evening, asking for an appropriation of $180 with which to defray the expense of employing playground instructors for the months of July and August of the present year. Dr. Willisford explained that this committee had been appointed at a meeting of the federated Parent-Teachers' associations and that the committee had gone over the ground carefully and laid plans for playground work which they think will meet with the approval of the citizens of Glendale.

The location of the playgrounds are: The Pacific avenue school, Central avenue school and Third street school. To provide one instructor for each playground at $50 per month will require $300 for two months. An estimate has been made that balls and bats for the three schools will cost at least $60, which makes a total of $360 needed. The board of trustees are ready to appropriate one-half of this amount, $180, providing the city trustees will appropriate the other half. Other members of the committee addressed the board briefly, speaking in behalf of the playgrounds and assuring the city trustees that the appropriation asked for will be gratefully received by the patrons of the Glendale schools. On motion the question of making such an appropriation was referred to the finance committee and will be acted upon at a future meeting.

NO CENTRAL AVENUE OIL STATION

For the past few weeks property owners and residents in the vicinity of Colorado street and Central avenue have been discussing the advisability of the board of trustees granting a permit to George Peters to establish a gasoline and oil station on the northwest corner of the street intersection of Colorado street and Central avenue. Mr. Peters, represented by Attorney Oliver O. Clark, appeared before the board Monday evening with a lengthy petition asking that a permit be granted to Mr. Peters to install an oil station at this point. Mr. Clark in his argument went on to show that there were no building restrictions placed upon property in this locality and therefore a property owner had a right to erect any kind of a building he would wish so long as it was not a nuisance to the people of the community in which it was located. He explained that on the petition presented there were names of people who reside close to the site of the proposed oil station and this being true there certainly should be no objection to granting the permit.

S. A. Davis, who is a property owner on Central avenue near the location of the proposed oil station, appeared in behalf of those who did not think it for the best interests of the community to have an oil station established in this residential part of the city. Mr. Davis produced a petition signed by the property owners in the near vicinity of the proposed station and explained to the board that the signers of Mr. Peters' petition were not property owners and that if the oil station proved a nuisance to them they could move away, but those owning lots near the station would suffer a depreciation in the valuation of the lots and it would be impossible for those people to leave their own property without subjecting themselves to a loss. Mr. Davis also reminded the board that there was a great amount of traffic both on Central avenue and Colorado street and that autos driving to and from an oil station at this place would greatly hinder traffic and endanger the lives of the traveling public.

After a few minutes of careful consideration the board voted not to grant the permit, Trustees Grist and Woodberry voting in the affirmative and Trustees Jackson, Muhleman and Thompson in the negative. Attorney Clark announced to the board of trustees that legal steps could be taken to allow Mr. Peters to establish an oil station at this point.

Members of the Foothill club have been invited to spend the third Friday of May with Mrs. Alfred Priest, near Central avenue and Mountain street.

PROSPECT OF AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO

GEN. HUGH SCOTT'S REPORT TO WASHINGTON PUTS RELATIONS WITH CARRANZA IN FAVORABLE LIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—As a result of Gen. Hugh Scott's report to President Wilson, Cabinet members stated today that they believed that a satisfactory settlement with Mexico would probably be reached. There has been a strong feeling in the cabinet all along that the continuance of the troops in Mexico was making it difficult for Carranza and while President Wilson is not anxious to withdraw the United States troops it seems likely that some arrangement that contemplates their gradual removal has been reached.

ARRESTS MADE IN FORT BLISS AFFAIR

THREE MEXICANS IN JAIL ON SUSPICION OF BEING CONNECTED WITH RECENT FIRE

EL PASO, May 16.—Three Mexicans were arrested here today on suspicion of having been connected with the recent incendiary fires at Fort Bliss. Other arrests will be made immediately. The authorities are puzzled to know how the second fire could have broken out a whole hour after the first unless there was connivance at the outrage inside the fort itself.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

APPROPRIATION FOR PLAYGROUNDS ASKED—OIL STATION PERMIT REFUSED

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale was held in the city hall, Monday evening, May 15, 1916. Present, J. S. Thompson, president of the board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhelman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present, J. C. Sherer, city clerk; T. W. Watson, city manager; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager Public Service department; Edward M. Lynch, city engineer; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal; G. H. Herald, city marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The regular order of business was waived in order to give a hearing to a delegation from the Parent-Teacher Federation, Rev. Willisford speaking for the committee. He stated that it is very desirable that a supervisor of playgrounds be employed during two months of the present season at three of the public school grounds of this city. The expense required for salary for this period would amount to about $300.00, and the material desired to be purchased would bring the total cost for the two months up to the sum of $360.00, one-half of this sum having been provided for on condition that the city trustees donate the other half, viz, $180.00. He emphasized the necessity for supervision, that being in his opinion even more essential that ample playgrounds. Ladies representing the Pacific Avenue school and the Central Avenue school spoke briefly in reference to the matter. Mr. Richardson D. White, superintendent of the Grammar schools, testified as to the satisfactory work done on the playgrounds last year. The chairman of the board stated that the fund out of which this appropriation might be made is unfortunately almost depleted, but that the matter would be put up to the Finance committee to investigate and report upon. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the entire matter was referred to the Finance committee.

A communication was read from the president of the Covina city council, inviting the members of the Glendale city council to be the guests of the City of Covina on Saturday, May 20th, to participate in a ceremony of the laying of the cornerstone for the Masonic Home for Children at that place. Upon motion, the communication was ordered to be filed, and the clerk instructed to accept the invitation in the name of the board.

A communication was read from T. G. Dalton, owner of one of the bonds for Canada Boulevard Bridge and protection work, series number 1, dated December 27, 1915, appealing to the board, acting by virtue of its authority under Section 11 of the Vrooman Act to set aside Assessment No. 95, and instead of ordering a new assessment to declare that Resolution No. 888, and all proceedings thereunder, are null and void, and that the bonds issued under Assessment No. 90 are still in force and effect. The city attorney stated that it appeared that the time for consideration of new assessment having been published and passed, no action could be taken by the board, as it had now no jurisdiction. On motion the communication was ordered to be filed.

A communication was read from G. Irwin Royce, president of the Glendale-Tropico Poultry and Pet Stock association, stating that on account of the success of the exhibition of poultry given by that organization in December, 1915, it was desired to repeat the same next December, but that it would be necessary for the association to receive financial assistance, and he therefore appealed to the board to appropriate the sum of $100.00 for the purpose of assisting in defraying expenses of the proposed show. Upon motion, the matter was referred to the Finance committee.

A communication was read, signed by A. H. Wightman and twenty-four others living in the vicinity of Colorado street and Central avenue, to the effect that they are not opposed to George Peters, Jr., erecting upon his property at the junction of those streets, an oil supply station after the plans accompanying the petition. In connection with the same matter, a petition was read, signed by S. A. Davis and twelve others, residents of the above neighborhood, protesting against a permit being issued to Mr. Peters, for the erection of a building on the corner of Colorado street and Central avenue, to serve the purpose of an oil supply station.

Mr. Oliver Clark addressed the board in favor of granting the petition, and Mr. Davis followed Mr.

BACK FROM TEXAS

MRS. ELVA B. STUBBS TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN GULF CITY

Mrs. Elva B. Stubbs, sister of H. E. Betz, the well-known brick contractor of 124 N. Kenwood street, returned to Glendale, Sunday morning, after a three months' stay in Galveston, Texas. It will be remembered that in the hurricane and floods that struck the southern part of Texas, last August, and devastated a great part of the city of Galveston, destroying shipping and causing great loss of life and property, Mrs. Stubbs lost her husband, H. E. Stubbs. Her journey to Texas was taken to settle up his estate.

Mrs. Stubbs says that the damage done by the hurricane and flood last August was very considerable; but that active efforts are being made to restore things to their former condition. At present the sea-wall is being strengthened and the space behind it is being filled up. All the water protection is being reinforced and when completed will be stronger than ever. Vast damage was done to the approaches, most of which were washed away. Communication between the island and the mainland is now being conducted on temporary bridges. A ferry system handles autos from Galveston island to the mainland. These disabilities, however, will soon be remedied and the city will assume before long its former appearance.

Business in Galveston and Texas generally is rather slower than usual, on account of the war in Europe and also on account of the uncertainty of conditions on the Mexican border. The Mexican situation in particular is having a very unsettling influence on all aspects of business. The building business is much slower than it usually is.

Mrs. Stubbs returned home by way of the Royal Gorge and Denver. In the course of her three months' absence she traveled through seven states, but in none did she find conditions equal to those in California. After seeing all that was best in these other places she believes that there is none equal to this genial land.

Mrs. Stubbs stopped over at Sacramento, where she visited her brothers, Mr. F. H. Betz, who is a brick contractor like H. E. Betz of Glendale; Myron Betz, formerly of Glendale, who recently moved to Sacramento, where he now has his home, and Glenn Betz.

While in Sacramento Mrs. Stubbs was fortunate enough to witness the three days' celebration of the opening of the new causeway, which will make traffic from Sacramento over the lowlands possible in flood time. The city was beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion. There were parades every day and much mirth and merriment.

ARTISTIC LUNCHEON

In a beautiful setting of pink and white the ladies of the Executive Board of the Tuesday Afternoon club sat down to a four-course luncheon, at the home of Mrs. E. H. Willisford, 231 Orange street, Monday, May 15. Luncheon was served at 12:30 p. m. The dining room was tastefully decorated with pink and white carnations and a centerpiece of carnations of the same color occupied center of the table. The place cards were in the form of little booklets, with the monogram of the Tuesday Afternoon club in gold. Each guest told her neighbor some little personal anecdote which was written in the booklets and then read to the entertainment of the party. After luncheon also each guest told some interesting experience either of herself or her husband.

Those present were: Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Laurence Ellis, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, Mrs. S. C. Packer, Mrs. David Black, Mrs. J. W. Usilton, Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy, all of the executive board. Other guests were Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, a former president of the club; Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator of the Music section, and Mrs. C. E. Harlan, literary curator.

CONGREGATIONAL PICNIC

What has now come to be looked on as an annual event in connection with the First Congregational church of Glendale, is the picnic of the ladies of that body, given at the home of Mrs. A. L. Smith, 305 N. Adams. This pleasing event will take place Wednesday, May 17. As many as are able to get away at 10:55 a. m. are requested to take the Montrose car that leaves at that hour from Broadway and Brand. Luncheon will be at noon and a most enjoyable time is promised.

AMERICAN FLAG BACK ON PACIFIC

When the Pacific Mail Steamship company, deeming it impossible to operate its vessels profitably under the provisions of the La Follette Seamen's law, sold out its largest vessels and went out of business, the American merchant flag was temporarily driven from the Pacific ocean. There was consequent rejoicing in Japanese government and shipping circles. Japan saw her way at last to that mercantile and naval supremacy in the Pacific at which she had been aiming for many years.

It must be a great disappointment to that country to find, therefore, that some patriotic Americans have resolved to put the flag back where it belongs and to begin again the fight for the mastery of the markets of the Orient. The old Pacific Mail Steamship company has passed into the hands of the American International Corporation and W. R. Grace & Co.

The five largest vessels have already been sold to the International Marine company. There remained, however, seven coastwise vessels, the largest of which is 7800 tons displacement. These have been transferred to the new interests. They own much of the Pacific Mail company's stock—about 75 per cent. This was purchased after a reduction in the capitalization from $20,000,000 to $1,000,000.

Three new vessels—the Venezuela, Columbia and Ecuador, built in Holland last year, have recently been purchased from the Royal Dutch West India Mail line to be put into the Pacific traffic. These boats will run from San Francisco to Japan, China and the Philippines, thus restoring the American flag to the trans-Pacific service.

For the twelve months ended February the total earnings of the Pacific Mail Steamship company amounted to $1,664,936, with $371,488 profits, as against $271,264 earned last year. G. J. Baldwin, the president, says that the profits from the Panama line alone during next year should amount to more than the total earnings of last year, and that the revenue from the three new steamers should exceed the total net revenue from the balance of the fleet during the current fiscal year. There is no doubt that there is a time of enormous profit ahead for all companies trading in the Orient after the European war is over.

DEFENSE SPIRIT IN AMERICAN WOMEN

Advocates of unpreparedness have probably done the country a service by their insistent program for doing nothing to protect this land from the possibilty of foreign aggression. It is said that the raid on Columbus also has helped wonderfully to stir up the people at large to do something while the national legislature is haggling over providing a handful of regulars for the national defense.

While the Civic Enrollment Committee is spreading information regarding the United States military training camps among the young men of the Pacific coast and other civilian organizations are trying to do the work that congress should have ordered done the women of the land are not behind in their efforts to fit themselves for service in their country's hour of need.

In these days the women deck themselves in a smart-looking duck uniform. They go into camp; they learn to wigwag a heliograph, make a bandage, decode a wireless message; cook for wounded or invalids. This is only part of the program for the first encampment. The navy league is undertaking this work in order to train women for the part they would inevitably have to play in case of war.

In the women's encampment at Chevy Chase, the fashionable suburb of Washington, D. C., more than 200 women are now receiving instruction. They include many women from Washington, New York and Philadelphia society. Many of these women are accustomed to the luxuries of fine homes, but they find more pleasure and enjoyment and health in the field.

These embryo Florence Nightingales rise at 6:30; go through a strenuous "setting up" drill. They "fall in," "form fours," learn the "right wheel into line" and the "left wheel into line," and a great deal more. They are under military discipline all day long. Red Cross and other expert teachers are training them. There should be a company of this nature in every county in the United States. Such services should be in readiness at all times. The women are apt in all they undertake, whether it be chauffeur work or aviation work, they can be of invaluable service in the day of necessity.

ACTIVITY OF WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS

Women voters throughout the country are manifesting wonderful activity just at present. In Salt Lake recently there was a women's conference at which many brave words were uttered. The women declared that too long had the pen been the weapon of the suffrage movement and that something stronger was needed to bring political parties to their senses in regard to the suffrage movement.

These women held out the threat that if the political parties should not come out definitely for national woman's suffrage that they would organize a woman's party and seize the balance of power in the November election. The threat is not so empty as might appear. It is against the Democrats that the fight is being directed at present. The women say that the pet amendment of the suffragists national enfranchisement of women has suffered cruel things at the hands of the Democratic party.

That measure, it is true, has been held in committee by the Democrats, and there is every likelihood that it will be kept there. The women, however, threaten that if the Democrats do not revive the dying energies of this pet of theirs, give it the approval of the committee and bring it before the House for consideration this summer that there will be new hands dabbling in the United States treasury after November.

From Salt Lake City a delegation has gone on to Washington, D. C., where they will deliver this message. They will be on a suffrage special with the twenty-three envoys who just wound up a tour of suffrage states, whipping the women into line. They will be met in Washington by crowds of supporters. The biggest demonstration yet accorded them awaits them at the Capital. Both the Republican and Democratic parties have promised them strong suffrage planks in their platforms; but this does not satisfy the women. They want deeds, not words.

After Washington the women will go to Chicago to the great convention of June 7, when there is likely to be something of interest to the whole country. The women have the courage of their opinions and then they have leisure to do the necessary agitating.

WOLVES ATE UP THE RAILROAD

A new country has at first no roads or railroads. The rivers often serve as roads and canoes or horses are the coaches. But, when the early pioneers went to the state of Washington, U. S. A., in the forests where they felled great logs, they found that they needed a railroad; so they tried first one kind and then another. First, they split small logs, placing them side by side, with the rounding half upwords, and over these "corduroy roads" great, gentle, clumsy oxen pulled the logs. Then, on such a road as this, they spiked down wooden rails, on which oxen pulled heavy wagons with wheels which just fitted over the rails. But these rails splintered so badly and wore out so quickly that the woodsmen covered them, whenever possible, with tin. Tin could not always be had, so they sometimes used cowhide as a covering.

Just such a railroad as this, covered with cowhide, ran the six miles from the Columbia river to Walla Walla, Wash., in the days when it was a very new town. The settlers had no way of bringing their barrels of flour, their ploughs, their sugar, nails and axes, from the river boats except this railroad. But one winter the wolves came down from the mountains of the Cascade range and from the Grande Ronde, and these gray, hungry timber wolves prowled around the farms and villages, eating anything they could find. So hungry were these wolves that they even ate the cowhide off the railroad track, and thus the settlers told of how the "wolves ate up the railroad."

CAST COMPLETE

At a meeting in the home of Mrs. Wayland Brown, Monday evening, the cast for the big Peace Pageant to be given on the playgrounds at Pacific avenue school was completed. The list comprises many of the community's leading artists, as well as quite a number of well known professional people from elsewhere.

Lighting effects were discussed principally. Quite a number of suggestions by Mr. Rittenhouse of the Elco Film Co. were adopted in the preparation for the production.

'Twill go so well, said Blanche Marie,
With my new motor coat you see."

NEW YORK, May 19.—A lady enveloped in an emerald hued coat of duvetyn with an emerald satin jockey's cap and a floating length or two of emerald chiffon veil isn't as green as she looks. She is decidedly smart according to the latest thing in motor modes. The coats for motor wear are legion this season and the time is, fortunately, long since past when the lovely motor maid had to disguise herself like a gargoyle in order to dress the part. The duvetyn coats are, of course, the richest and it takes the richest to buy 'em. They come in wonderfully brilliant shades of rose, raspberry, emerald, ochre and sapphire blue. Either in the long, loose, flaring models or the belted in effects they are very stunning indeed. They are becoming to all figures but they become yours only for several figures.

Other soft woolen materials that have the general effect of the duvetyn in a speeding motor as on a galloping horse make up equally stunning and less costly togs. One of gold color is cut a la militaire, with capacious buttoned hip pockets and smaller buttoned breast pockets. It has a wide buttoned belt, raglan sleeves and a wide rolling collar that can be worn open or turned up snug and close and tight, to fasten with a disk of jade the size of a silver dollar. This coat is lined throughout with the same shade of gold satin. Many of the coats, however, like many people, hide a gay and frivolous interior under a sedate and drab exterior.

Slate colored, plainly tailored coats adorned solely with selftoned buttons are lined with exotic crepe and silks of ultra futuristic designs as are most of the other tans and fawns. Buttons galore you will find on all of them and a Jenny model that is shown in serge, shepherd plaid wool, or natural pongee is buttoned straight down the front from the top of the choker collar to the bottom of the hem and shows further button symptoms on the deep cuffs, big slash hip pockets and the belt which only confines the front, the back being left loose and flaring. The buttons on the serge models, which come in black, wine and navy, are white bone disks. Those on the shepherd plaid are black bone and the pongee has bullet buttons of the pongee tone.

Besides her emerald coat Blanche Marie, just from Paris, brought over a chic loose coat of biege Jersey colth with a deep band of navy taffeta around its flaring hem, deep navy cuffs and roll collar and a deep rippling cape collar of the Jersey lined taffeta hanging down behind. For wear with this she has an ideal motor hat made of two inch beige grosgrain ribbon sewed together in four rows from the little round center of the crown. The tiny roll brim is the ribbon doubled and a smart pleated cockade of the ribbon adorns one side. Not only for motoring is this little crush hat charming as well as practical, but for all forms of travel, as it can be rolled up in a wad with the utmost abandon and tucked in the oddest of odd corners when not desirable and tucked on the head at the oddest of odd angles.

All shades of green and yellow and crosses of the two like ginger chartreuse and citron are chosen colors of the racy racing motor maids this year and many a speed sister is all the mustard in a piquant automobile coat of the same seasoning and seasonable shade.

Fortunately for the speedometer these are all fast colors.

WONDER WHY THEY DID IT?

O'er his bier they sang a song—
Wonder why they did it?
Sang an anthem sweet and long—
Wonder why they did it?
While he lived, unto his ear
Never came a song of cheer,
Yet they sang above his bier—
Wonder why they did it?

On his grave sweet flowers lie—
Wonder why they did it?
Just to wither and to die—
Wonder why they did it?
Into his poor life of gloom
No one ever pitched a bloom,
Yet they laid them on his tomb—
Wonder why they did it?
—Whitney Montgomery.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely, and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense. This day is all that is good and fair. It is too dear, with its hopes and invitations, to waste a moment on the yesterdays. —Emerson.

FOUR YEARS WED

The beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Taylor at 1318 West Ninth street was the scene Saturday evening of a most delightful social affair in celebration of the fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who had issued more than sixty-five invitations for that interesting date.

The color motif throughout the house was pink and nile green even to the refreshments. Hundreds of pink and white carnations and great quantities of asparagus fern were used to advantage in the various rooms. Music and games entertained the guests until a late hour and when the prizes were awarded it was found that Mrs. William Mordecai Crawford and Mr. John Dillenburg, the latter from Los Angeles had captured the first prizes, while Mrs. Grover C. Taylor and Mr. Crawford carried away the consolation prizes.

Refreshments were served at 11:30, favors being dainty pink and green baskets containing bon bons and blanched almonds. Many handsome presents as well as hearty congratulations were received by the genial host and gracious hostess, who certainly understand the art of dispensing hospitality with a lavish hand.

An electric cigar lighter has been invented which may be connected with a lamp socket in an automobile and used while a car is in motion.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

Dr. and Mrs. Curtis of N. Central avenue were among those who attended the Olivet college, Michigan, picnic, at Pomona Saturday. The picnic was given by former students of Olivet college and was a most enjoyable affair. Dr. and Mrs. Curtis have a home in Olivet, Mich., and they contemplate returning there for the summer months.

Mr. W. D. McRae and Mrs. McRae and family attended the Olivet College, Mich., picnic in Genesha park, Pomona, Saturday. The affair was a great success and those who attended found much pleasure in renewing old friendships.

Mr. W. D. McRae of 1321 Dryden street, who is engaged in the field work of the Y. M. C. A. in Santa Clara county at present, returned home Friday and went back to his field work on Sunday evening. He reports conditions in the north as rather slow and finds that people make the plea of hard times constantly as an excuse for not taking up the work of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower, 922 Fairview avenue, returned a few days ago from a very pleasant trip up San Gabriel canyon, where they camped and fished and had a good time generally. They report the waters in the canyon as very high and the trout scarce. On the opening day, May 1, between the intake and the mouth of the canyon, a distance of seven miles, more than 300 people were fishing. Under such conditions "limits" were rare. However, in the smaller canyons there were a few who caught the limit. One lucky fisherman caught a steelhead trout 23 inches long. Some big fish were caught far up the canyon.

The party camped about a mile from the famous Camp Bonita amid a scene of great beauty. The trail up to this point was rather rough. On one occasion some mules crossing a ford slipped in the rushing waters and were gotten out with great difficulty. The rush of the water was so strong that the animals after a hard struggle gave up and came near to being drowned. Mrs. Bierbower secured a fine picture of this event. Notwithstanding rough roads and high waters, Mrs. Bierbower says anyone who takes the trip will feel amply rewarded by the pleasure of the experience and the health gained among the mountains.

SOLOISTS BANQUETED

The Ladies' Aid of the First M. E. church served a banquet in the social hall of the church Saturday evening in honor of those who so splendidly handled the solo parts in the cantata, "Joseph's Bondage."

The two rooms were made to represent a private home by the use of different articles of furniture, carpets, bric-a-brac, etc., brought in by the ladies. The decorations were in pink and green, the color scheme in the living room being carried out in pink carnations and ferns, the dining room in pink sweet peas and plumosis. The long table was very attractive with its large shower bouquet of pink sweet peas and plumosis in the center, with a small one at either end. The place cards were a work of art, being a hand-painted sweet pea, with a dear little face peeping out from underneath. Miss Esther Andrae was the designer and painter of same and is due a vote of thanks for the beautiful work. The lights were covered with pink shades to harmonize with the other decorations.

Covers were laid for 24 and at 6:45 all were busily engaged ministering to their bodily needs. A good deal of mirth and laughter was sandwiched in during the dinner and all left the table in a splendid good humor. They then adjourned to the living room, where the evening was spent in music, caustic quips which were all taken good naturedly, and conversation. At 10 p. m. the happy gathering broke up and with regrets we bade our new friends good night and wended our way homeward, feeling that we had been benefited by our social evening together. Blessings on every one of them.

The Ladies' Aid of the First M. E. church wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to those who in any way helped make our "cantata" a success. The soloists, Hebrews, Egyptians, Shepherds, business men, candy committee, scenery men, Mr. Jensen, Glendale News, and dear little Mrs. Marsh, who gave so generously of her time and strength to make it a success.—MRS. J. L. ANDERSON, President.

TRIP TO MT. WILSON

Trips to Mt. Wilson are popular during this fine weather. It is possible to get a splendid view of the wonderful panorama of brilliantly lighted cities that stretch along between the mountains and the sea, just after nightfall. Among the numerous parties which made the trip last Saturday was one from Glendale consisting of Lou Kirri and Mrs. Kirri of Hawthorne street, Bert Anderson, Miss Rose Kohler of Hollywood, and Miss Ivy Mills. The party motored up the mountain and spent a pleasant afternoon there. They were much interested in the new observatory that is being built but will not be finished for three years. After having enjoyed the night scene the party returned to Glendale.

PINEAPPLES IN GLENDALE

If anyone is interested in seeing a real, live pineapple in bloom in Glendale that person should call at 808 W. Eighth street, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClish. Mr. and Mrs. McClish are enthusiasts on plant growing and have a large number of interesting plants in their garden and their greenhouse. In the greenhouse, where an equable temperature can be assured it, grows the pineapple plant in a large tub. "This plant," said Mrs. McClish "was propagated from the top of the pineapple. Anyone can purchase a pineapple, pull out the bushy top and plant it in a temperature that resembles its native habitat. The pineapple grows to perfection in Hawaii and a temperature similar to the unvarying heat of that climate is necessary. This is the first time I have succeeded in getting one of these pineapples to grow fruit and I am not sure if it will come to absolute maturity; but meanwhile it is interesting."

The McClish greenhouse is rich in many different specimens of cacti that are quite rare in ordinary gardens or greenhouses. In another part of this establishment is to be seen a very large specimen of the Boston fern, which has spread to a huge size but is still graceful and beautiful. Whether it be flowers or animals all manner of life seems to flourish here. Mrs. McClish has a large number of New Zealand rabbits which are multiplying in harmonical progression.

LIBRARY SOCIAL

The Glendale Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society will hold a social this evening in the church, to which all their friends are invited. An entertainment and program have been planned and refreshments will be served. The admission to this social is a book or the price of a book and these books will be the start for a C. E. library for the use of the young people of the church. You are invited to come and join the fun and to help with your contribution.

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY

Upon request of many people unable to attend regularly the evening meetings of the Glendale Garden society, an afternoon section will be formed. The first gathering will take place Thursday, May 18, 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. H. Seaman, 112 N. Central, Tropico. Phone 1227-W. Mrs. J. H. Seaman, Mrs. Geo. Bleck and Mrs. Herbert Beede will act as hostesses. These meetings will be informal and social in character; they will be held at various private residences, and will afford members and friends an opportunity of visiting each others' gardens, and talking over individual garden problems.

No refreshments will be offered at any time, beyond a glass of lemonade to quench one's thirst. These afternoon meetings will be open to all friends and members of the Garden society. On this coming Thursday a regular day for gathering together will be definitely fixed, some afternoon suiting the majority of those interested. Members are asked to circulate this announcement among their friends and neighbors, and to remember the date and place, Thursday, May 18, at 2:30, 112 N. Central, Tropico.

PROGRESSIVE WHIST

What proved to be a most enjoyable party took place at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cousins, 1501 Lorraine street, Friday, May 12, when a large number of the ladies of the Roman Catholic church and congregation met for an afternoon of progressive whist. Mrs. A. R. Alf of Eagle Rock won the first prize, a dainty hand-painted plate. Miss Marguerite LaFaye won the second prize, while the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. W. O'Brien.

Late in the afternoon delicious home-made cakes were served with iced fruit punch. The program, which was wholly informal, consisted of vocal numbers by the charming and gifted artiste, Miss Viola Yorba. The proceeds of the afternoon, amounting to quite a neat sum, will go toward the fund for the new Catholic church building.

GLENDALE BRITISH RED CROSS

The Glendale British Red Cross society met in the guild room of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Monday afternoon, June 15. There was a large attendance of members. Mrs. G. Walters, president, conducted the formal proceedings. The other officials present were: Mrs. Reginald E. Whitaker, secretary, and Miss Ina Whitaker, treasurer. Mrs. Georgiana Bell, Hawthorne street, was admitted to membership. Mrs. Nathaniel Green, 120 E. Ninth street, was hostess for the afternoon. A member of the society whose name was not made known contributed $20 for Belgian relief. A new section of the society was organized on the basis of paying 10 cents a month. It was reported that eight members had been admitted to this section and that many more were expected to join. Next meeting of the society will be on Monday, May 29. In the course of the afternoon the ladies made seventeen hospital shirts and did other Red Cross work.

Teacher—Thomas, will you tell me what a conjunction is, and compose a sentence containing a conjunction?"

Thomas (after long and solemn reflection)—A conjunction is a word connecting anything, such as 'The horse is hitched to the fence by his halter.' Halter is a conjunction because it connects the horse and the fence.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

Clark in a statement of the grounds for his objection, insisting that an oil supply station at that point would be a nuisance, and is not a necessity. The matter was discussed at some length by the members of the board, and a motion made by Trustee Grist, seconded by Trustee Woodberry, that a permit be granted. Roll call resulted as follows:

Ayes—Grist, Woodberry.

Noes—Jackson, Grist, Muhleman.

The petition was, therefore, denied.

A petition was read from William Nichols and twelve other property owners "Generally fronting on Pacific Avenue" against the improvement of Central avenue as provided for by Resolution of Intention No. 906. On motion of Trustee Grist, a hearing in the matter was fixed for May 29th, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The city engineer made a report in regard to the opening and widening of Orange Grove avenue, to the effect that there were one or two cases remaining in which it was yet necessary to get a correction of signatures.

In regard to the improvement of Glendale avenue north of First St., an official of the Salt Lake Railroad had been viewing the situation, but as yet no action had been taken.

Trustee Woodberry reported that the members of the Public Works committee had looked over the ground along the wash in reference to the planting of trees as recommended by the committee at the last meeting, and he desired that the other members of the board would also look over the situation.

The manager of the Public Service department reported progress in regard to the Kelley Water System, and in reference to the laying of the large pipe line, which he expects to have completed by the tenth of June.

On motion, Ordinance Number 291, "An Ordinance fixing the time and place of holding meetings of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale, and repealing Ordinance Number 158 of said city, adopted on the 14th day of March, 1912, relating thereto," was ordered to be taken up for third and final reading, and upon being read, was on motion of Trustee Grist adopted by unanimous vote.

Sure, painting costs some money. So the thing to do is to buy the paint that lasts the longest, and the answer is

Let Lynn Help You Make Your Floors Like New

Twenty, thirty years ago it was the fashion to stiple floors. Like many of the old time customs "stipling" and bringing out a grain in the wood has again become the style. Few present-day painters really understand the art of stipling, but Mr. Lynn's years of experience as a painter have made him so proficient that he can make an old pine floor look nearly as good as a new hardwood floor. Have him do over just one floor in one room, and you will be more than pleased.

The beauty of waxed floors can also be yours, whether hardwood or soft, if you will try OLD ENGLISH WAX, the kind that spreads better, lasts longer and polishes better than ordinary waxes. For those who prefer, we also have Johnson's Prepared Wax.

S. P. DINING CARS

The dining car department of the American railroad, one of the big elements in the luxury of passenger service, is a bigger institution than the average traveler imagines. An idea of its magnitude and importance may be gathered from figures gathered by Supt. Allan Pollok of the Dining Car, and Restaurant department of the Southern Pacific.

"The Southern Pacific," says Mr. Pollok, "has 105 diners, 63 buffet cars, four cafe cars and one lunch car. Its dining car mileage last year was 10,832,847 and 3,207,353 persons were fed on the diners. We have 107 commissary employes, 824 car employes, 80 stewards, 327 cooks, 367 waiters and 52 porters. In equipment we use 65,625 pieces of silver, 131,797 napkins, 36,098 tablecloths, 19,425 pieces of glassware and 71,820 pieces of chinaware. On the diners we used last year 636,732 pounds of fresh meat, 189,904 pounds of poultry, 17,436 gallons of cream, 123,436 gallons of milk, 36,000 loaves of bread and 85,846 dozens eggs. On the steamers we served 1,101,015 meals, using 120,792 pounds of fresh meats, 1,200 pounds of poultry, 1,200 gallons of cream, 38,687 gallons of milk, 24,624 pounds of butter, 31,442 dozen eggs and 82,254 loaves of bread. Our fifteen restaurants, alone, served 1,612,293 meals.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS

The production of raisins in 1915 was the largest in the history of the state. The following figures show the output of the leading varieties: Muscat, 93,000 tons; Thompson seedless, $18,000 tons; Sultanas, 8,000 tons; miscellaneous varieties, 5,000 tons; total, 124,000 tons. The production of seeded raisins amounted to 45,000 tons. The value of the raisin crop to the farmer will be over $10,000,000.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE BOY

"It oftens happens," said a modern writer, "that perseverance has to become a steerage passenger on the way to success." The comment was called forth by the story of Bayard Taylor. This youth, reared on a farm, had literary aspirations, and when he was about nineteen, resolved to see the world. His only capital was a few poems, and with them he visited Philadelphia. He succeeded in persuading the publishers of two magazines to advance him fifty dollars apiece for letters he should write from across the water, and he actually succeeded in disposing of his poems for another forty. With this hundred and forty dollars he started out to see Europe, going steerage, that he might save enough for the future expenses of his trip. He visited the British Isles, Belgium, Germany, Austria, and Italy, traveling most of the way on foot and sometimes living on a few cents a day. In London, to which he returned, he remained some time earning a very scanty living by his pen, but when he returned to America he found his fortune made. His letters had established his reputation.

"I wish I could get an education," says a youth. "But it's out of the question." That depends. Perhaps it is if you want all the luxuries and pleasures so often associated with an education in these days. If you are willing to put up with hardship, to do menial work, to be snubbed, possibly, by those with more money than manners, you can get about anything you care to go after. Everything is possible to the youth who is willing to take steerage passage on the way to success.

Japanese ingenuity devised a triangular bandage to be carried by each soldier. The German and the British armies, which have largely adopted the same kind, have added to its usefulness by printing on it pictures showing how the soldier is to apply it for different kinds of wounds.—Exchange.
